Judge Reed was all forgotten in a little scene in the district court room yesterday forenoon. An emergency arose, the judge was equal to it; it was necessary for him to act, and he acted.

The case of Sanders vs. Sanders was up for a bearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus, made a week ago by Mrs. Sanders, to secure the custody of her 3-year-old child that was given to ber husband some months ago in a divorce proceeding between them. On the first continuance of the case the child was given to Mrs. Dunham, the mother of Mrs. Sanders, to care for and to produce in court yesterday; and she was present with it when court opened. There were also present Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, the attorney for Mrs. Sanders we will all that we have tried to make the best possible use of it.
